Introduction

The Rotunda Hospital has adapted a Code of Conduct that applies to all service providers who are subject of the Health Act 2007 and the Mental Health Act 2001. It clearly expresses the individual responsibilities of board members, executives, and employees in achieving an optimal safety culture, corporate and clinical governance and performance in their hospital.

The Code is a nationally mandated document and its implementation is endorsed by the Minister for Health. The Code builds on the principles of existing professional regulation and associated codes of professional conduct. It has also been developed to complement the existing corporate, workplace and corporate and clinical executive governance.

The development of this Code acknowledges the challenging environment facing frontline health and social services staff. The Code seeks to assist them in these circumstances by clearly setting out the obligations of service providers at Board and executive level in supporting frontline staff to adopt and adhere to the Code and carry out their duties. The Code also sets out the individual responsibilities of all health and social services employees, both executive and frontline, in the delivery of quality, safe care.

It is hoped that doing so will contribute to a service environment and culture that is transparent, open and supportive to staff and service users alike.

The purpose of this Code of Conduct:

1. To provide reassurance to the service user and wider public that the health and social service system is focused on providing quality care that is effective and safe
2. To implement a set of principles:
 - That clearly set out the responsibilities of the hospital in relation to promoting and achieving an optimal safety culture, corporate and clinical governance and performance in the hospital
 - That compliment and build upon existing Rotunda Hospital and hospital corporate and clinical governance systems, policies and performance frameworks as well as professional regulation and associated codes of professional conduct
 - That articulate a framework against which, board members, executives and employees can be assessed and held to account should they be found to be in breach of the Code

Our Mission

As the leading Voluntary provider of maternity, neonatal, gynaecology and reproductive care, our mission is to excel in the delivery of safe, innovative and responsive services for women and their families. In our role as the major tertiary referral hospital and the designated regional lead, we will continue to develop subspecialist care and shape National policy. This will be underpinned by a strong commitment to the values of voluntarism, staff excellence, and efficient use of resources, promotion of research and education and enhanced alliances with our strategic partners. Together, the values outlined above and our strategic objectives will guide our actions under this Code of Conduct.

All managers play an important role in shaping and maintaining workplace culture, all employees have a personal and collegial responsibility to ensure that these values are upheld and that patients, clients, service users, colleagues and the public experience them when they access our services.

Application of the Code

This Code of Conduct will apply to all Governors, committee members and employees of the Rotunda Hospital. To address the collective responsibilities in achieving an optimal safety culture, corporate and clinical governance and performance, this document sets out the Code of Conduct principles under three headings:

- Board member

All Governors or individuals with an equivalent oversight role of the Rotunda Hospital are covered by the Code

- Executive / Managers

The Master, Secretary General Manager and the Director of Midwifery / Nursing with specific governance remit for the strategic, financial, clinical and day-to-day running the Hospital.

- Employee

All employees of provider hospitals including permanent or temporary, full time and part time staff, fixed-term staff, casual staff, and those engaged in any capacity to provide services or advice to, or on behalf of the and includes:

- All physicians, nurses, midwives and other allied health professionals who provide care or services on behalf of the provider.
- Researchers
- Students, trainees and educators

Board

As Board members of the Rotunda Hospital the following outline our specific responsibilities in relation to this Code of Conduct. Accordingly, we will ensure that:

1. Our hospital has a clearly defined and consistent purpose, expressed in ways that staff and the public can understand and relate to
2. We uphold and promote the culture of the hospital and the values it embodies
3. We do not engage in conduct which is dishonest or which may bring the provider's, or those employed by the provider's, reputation into disrepute
4. We approve appropriate corporate and clinical governance and executive structures for the hospital and monitor their ongoing implementation and effectiveness in demonstrating the delivery of safe, quality care on an annual basis
5. We approve and monitor the implementation of a Framework of Accountability that clearly communicates executive and employee responsibilities, authority, obligations and expected conduct

13. Implements training and development opportunities to support staff to continually strengthen and develop their skills and knowledge and ensure they have the competence to perform their work in line with best practice guidelines and the business objectives of the hospital
14. Has in place and demonstrates the implementation of written processes and procedures to deal with dangerous, discriminatory or exploitative behaviour and practice
15. Implements structures that enable staff, other hospitals and the public to be engaged in decisions about themselves
16. Is reasonably practical, provides all staff with a safe and secure environment in which to carry out their work
17. Is mindful of the obligations placed on staff to adopt and adhere to this Code of Conduct and takes appropriate steps to ensure they are supported in doing so

Responsibility of Employees

As an employee of the Rotunda Hospital I will ensure that:

1. I am aware of my responsibilities under the Code and adhere to the Code at all times
2. I value each service user and colleague as individuals, respect their diversity and take action to ensure that they are not discriminated against, should I become aware of it
3. Where relevant, I uphold the ethics of my profession, adhere to professional regulation and associated codes of professional conduct, behave with honesty and integrity and act within the law at all times, reporting any probation or conviction to my employer
4. I am cognisant of my span of authority, responsibilities and accountabilities, as set out in my hospital's scheme of delegation, at all times
5. I act only within my level of competence and advise otherwise when asked to act beyond it
6. I attend work as required and adhere to policies, procedures and practices and any other applicable regulations or guidelines aimed at the delivery of safe and effective care at all times
7. I actively identify and respond to safety concerns and prioritise the timely and effective communication of any information relating to service user or staff welfare, safety or perceived risk
8. I adhere to the terms and conditions and the policies, procedures and guidelines relevant to my employment

9. I take personal responsibility for my own conduct and my continuing competence in all of my professional activities at all times
10. I expect my colleagues to take responsibility for their own conduct, adherence to the Code and continuing competence in all of their professional activities and speak up should I feel that this is not the case, participating fully in any investigative processes as required and with the full support of my employer
11. I respect the privacy and confidentiality of individuals, providers and the health service by not improperly disclosing, during or following termination of employment, information gained in the course of my work and by understanding and adhering to relevant legislation
12. I do not engage in conduct, in pursuit of my profession or otherwise, which is dishonest or which may bring the provider's, or those employed by the provider's, reputation into disrepute unfairly
13. I avoid conflicts of interest, seeking the approval of my human resources department should I require any clarification and ensure that decisions are made through established procedures without improper influence including, but not limited to: my own interest or that of others with whom I have a personal or business association, inappropriate internal or external interference, hospitality, gifts, medical conditions or substance abuse
14. I avoid receiving benefits or hospitality of any kind from a third party which might reasonably be seen to compromise my personal judgement or integrity and report any such instances to my superior, retaining only those of nominal value
15. I ensure that the resources available to me are used properly and effectively, without corruption or fraud and that any concerns I have of this nature are reported

Breaches of the Code

1. Breaches of the Code are considered to be a serious matter and will be dealt with in accordance with disciplinary and regulatory / statutory procedures
2. Should any clarification on the Code be required, individuals should refer to the HR Department, Department Manager or Q Pulse for further information.

Additional responsibilities that apply to the staff of the Rotunda Hospital include:-

- Support and be loyal to the Rotunda by supporting colleagues and the Rotunda in the performance of its functions.
- Promoting the goals and objectives of the Rotunda and not undermining any of them through action or omission.
- Seeking to resolve grievances and concerns through agreed channels (this includes The Good Faith Reporting Policy)
- Ensuring any actions taken maintain public confidence in the Rotunda and its good name
- Employees must not seek contracts with government departments or offices for supply of goods or services whether for their own benefit or for the benefit of any company with which they may have an involvement in a private capacity, unless specifically sanctioned by the Master of the Rotunda
- Employees may have access to or hear information concerning the medical or personal affairs of clients and/or employees, or other health service business. Such records and information are strictly confidential and can only be divulged or discussed in the performance of normal duty. Disclosure of records or information under various statutory provisions (e.g. Freedom of Information Acts 1997 and 2003; Data Protection Acts 2001 and 2003; the Health Acts 1947 to 2009) will be made in accordance with Rotunda Hospital policies, procedures and protocols.
- Employees must be impartial in the performance of their duties.
- It is each employee's responsibility to carry out his/her duties in a party political neutral manner. Public political activities should not, under any circumstances, be undertaken in paid Rotunda hours by any employee.
- Employees should ensure that views expressed by them or actions taken related to their public political activities are not presented or interpreted as official comment on behalf of the Rotunda, but that they are their own or those of the political hospital they are representing. Neither should such views or actions compromise their loyalty to the Rotunda.
